

1. Location of Tree cover data-27 states (2010)

27 states Tree cover data is provided (csv file). In Brazil as of 2010, the top 2 regions represent 51% of all tree cover. Amazonas had the most tree cover at 150 Mha, Para had 104 Mha, compared to an average of 18.5 Mha.

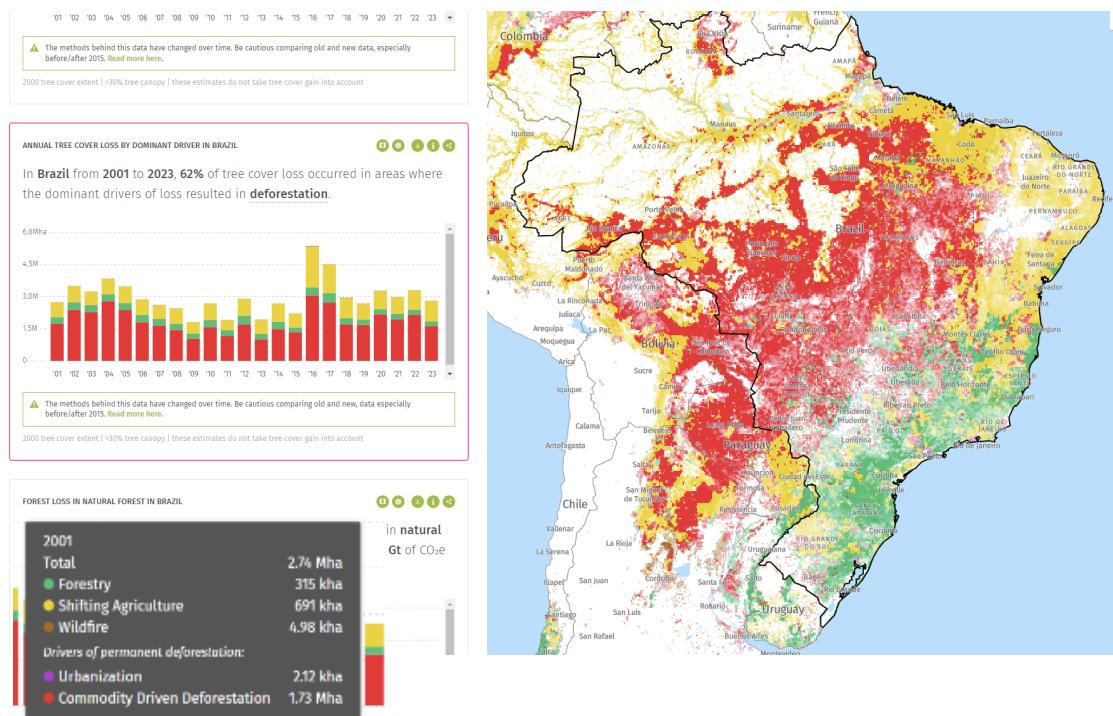

2. Tree cover change -Brazil

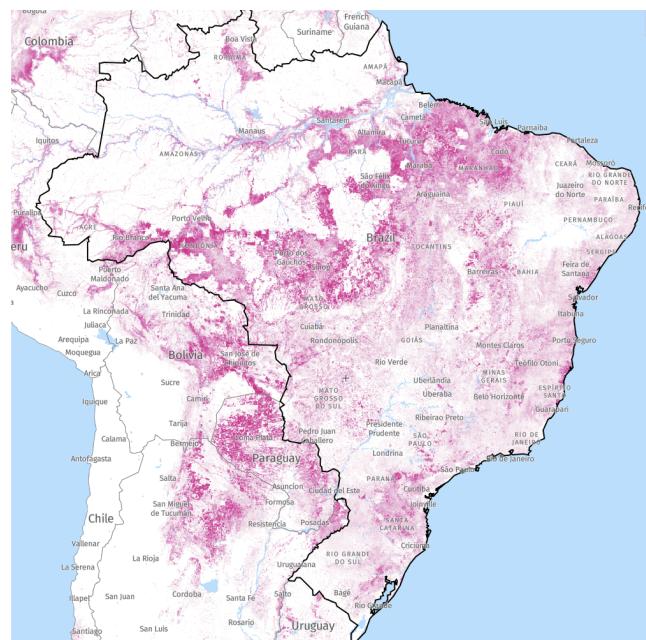

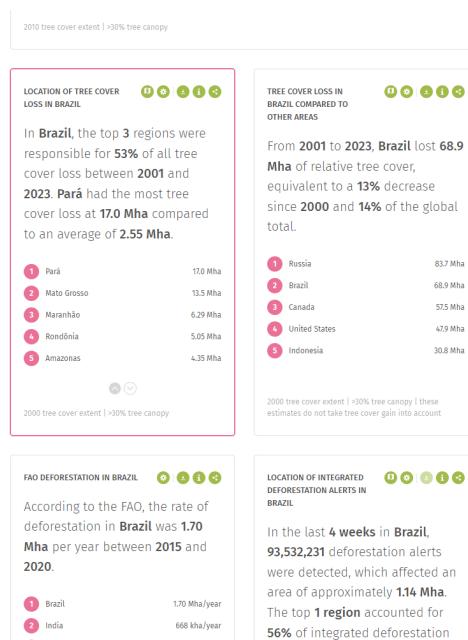

3. Annual tree cover loss by dominant driver in Brazil (2001-2023)

In Brazil from 2001 to 2023, 62% of tree cover loss occurred in areas where the dominant drivers of loss resulted in deforestation. (Annual tree cover loss is also provided).

4. Location of tree cover loss-27 states (2001-2023)

In Brazil, the top 3 regions were responsible for 53% of all tree cover loss between 2001 and 2023. Pará had the most tree cover loss at 17.0 Mha compared to an average of 2.55 Mha.

5. Location of tree cover gain-27 states (2001-2023)

FOREST GAIN

TREE COVER GAIN IN BRAZIL COMPARED TO OTHER AREAS

From 2000 to 2020, Brazil gained 8.06 Mha of tree cover equal to 6.2% of the global total.

1 Russia	37.2 Mha
2 Canada	17.0 Mha
3 United States	14.0 Mha
4 Brazil	8.06 Mha
5 China	6.69 Mha

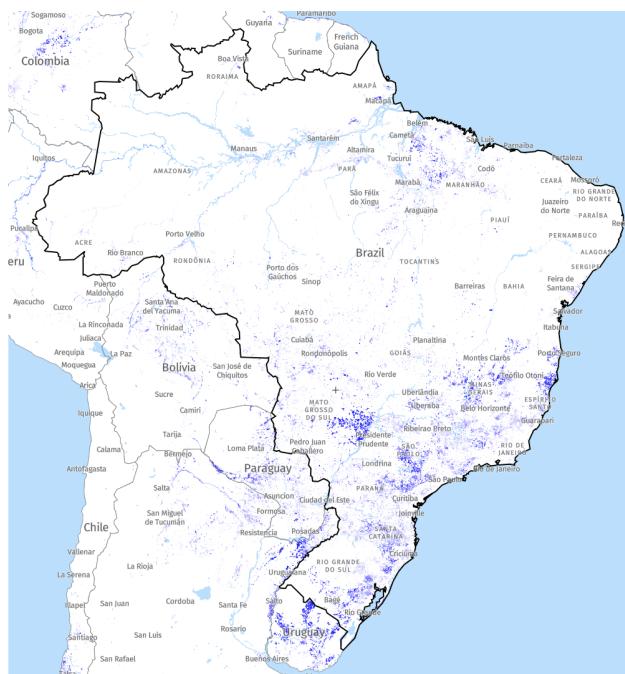

FAO REFORESTATION IN BRAZIL

According to the FAO, the rate of reforestation in Brazil was 257 kha per year between 2015 and 2020.

1 Philippines	281 kha/year
---------------	--------------

TREE COVER GAIN OUTSIDE PLANTATIONS IN BRAZIL

In Brazil between 2000 and 2020, 70% of tree cover gain occurred outside of plantations.

6. Tree cover Loss from Fire 27 states, (2001-2023)

7. Cumulative fire alerts-Brazil (2012-2024)

8. Ggg

9. Fff

10. Fff

11. Yy

12. Gg

13. Economic impact and forestry employment (200, 2010, 2015)

ECONOMIC IMPACT OF FORESTS IN BRAZIL

According to the FAO, the forestry sector contributed a net 1.3 billion USD to the economy in 2000, which is approximately < 0.1% of Brazil's GDP.

FORESTRY EMPLOYMENT IN BRAZIL

According to the FAO, there were 105k people employed in Brazil

Forestry sector in 2015, of which

13% were female.

